
AT MEETING FRIDAY NIGHT TEMPORARY OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS WERE NAMED.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Country Club held at the court house Friday night, a board of directors were chosen for the ensuing year, and a temporary chairman and secretary were chosen to serve until the board of directors selected the permanent officers. The name of the club was changed from the Ardmore Country Club to "Dorrick Hill" country club in honor of one of the greatest golf clubs in Scotland, where the game originated.

Perry Maxwell was elected as chairman and W. D. Ward as secretary and the following board of directors to serve for the ensuing year: P. D. Maxwell, Dr. E. C. Harlow, W. M. Hutchinson, A. C. Straehley, M. D. Smith, Roy Johnson, W. T. Ward, J. R. Dexter, and S. A. Apple.

The club has applied for a charter and as soon as it is received the directors will elect permanent officers for the club.
