
T. H. Riggs-Miller, New York golf architect, is said to be on his way to Oklahoma to inspect the links in this state. In other words he is coming down this way to brighten his own ideas with the achievements of our own Perry Maxwell, who is the world's greatest golf architect, and who laid out the links in Oklahoma.
