

Expert to Design New Golf Course

Perry Maxwell, noted golf-course architect of Oklahoma, will lay out the 18-hole Bossier parish Palmetto Country club course, J. A. Dunnam, club president, said yesterday.

He said construction will begin in about 30 days. Only nine holes will be built at first.

Maxwell, who arrived in Bossier City on Saturday, is now surveying the land. The new club will be located about 10 miles north of Bossier City, off the Benton road.
