

Perry Maxwell will leave Ardmore as soon as the tournament is over for Ann Arbor, where he is laying out a course for the University of Michigan. It will complete the school's athletic plant—said to be one of the finest and most modern in America. The school is spending several hundred thousand dollars on the golf course.