

Perry Maxwell, who is a golf architect, is at home on a visit. Perry had to his credit in the First National bank a sum of $400 that was carried over from World War I. It was a community fund used in promoting war drives and this fund has been given to the committee that has in charge the victory bond drive.