

Golf Architect Seeks Site for Private Course

Perry Maxwell, golf architect from Ardmore, Okla., conferred with city officials Saturday morning in regard to establishing a privately owned golf course in Corpus Christi.

Mr. Maxwell expects to make a survey of several available locations of the proposed course during the next few days.

R. P. Poland of Ardmore, who has been visiting in Corpus Christi, is also interested in establishing such a course and will work with Mr. Maxwell if they find it expedient to establish the course here.

Mr. Maxwell has just completed the golf course at the University of Michigan, said to be one of the finest in the country.
