

NEW GOLF CLUB IS FORMED HERE

Edwards Brothers Has Perry
Maxwell Lay Out Course in Southwest Part of the City.

Forward Ardmore!

Ardmore's newest attraction will be a nine hole golf course located in the southwest part of the city at Glenwood park, and will be available to all business men who desire to play the game, but who have little opportunity of doing so.

The new club will be known as the "Glenwood," and will be established by Edwards Brothers, upon 75 acres they own in that locality.

It is proposed to make this an attraction for the benefit of those who are not members of the country club, and a nominal fee will be the only charge.

It was stated Friday by W. A. Edwards that Perry Maxwell would begin immediately to lay out the course, and plans embrace special attraction for women and children as there is ample shade where playground apparatus can be erected, a wading pool made, and swings and pavillions built.

Realizing that golf is gaining a firmer hold upon the public every day, Mr. Edwards, himself a golf enthusiast, and member of the country club, conceived the idea of letting the public in on one of the greatest games of all time, therefore the new course that will be available to all who desire to chase the elusive white ball over the landscape.

It is proposed to have the grounds in readiness so that they may start within the next few weeks, Mr. Edwards announced.
