

Maxwell to Build Dallas Golf Course

Press Maxwell, formerly of Amarillo, has been given the contract to build the new Oak Cliff Country club golf course in Dallas, Texas. He will design and build the 18-hole course.

Maxwell was associated with his father, the late Perry D. Maxwell, a nationally known golf architect.

The elder Maxwell built the Denney Hills Golf and Country Club here and also Twin Hills and Oklahoma City Golf and Country Clubs in Oklahoma City, and the Lake Hefner golf course.
