

WORKED ON PLATT PARK GOLF LINKS

Sulphur, Okla., May 31.—(Special)—All business houses, banks and post office were closed yesterday and the entire citizenship worked on the golf course now nearing completion in Platt National Park. Six tennis courts under course of construction in the park also received the attention of the workers. The Ladies Civic League furnished dinner to the hundreds of workers at noon.

Four patrols of Ada scouts, with Scout Master George Chisholm in charge, who are camping in Platt National Park this week, joined forces with Sulphur and assisted in the work on the golf links. They were guests of the Civic League's big basket dinner at noon.

This was Sulphur's third close-up day within the past two months. On the two former occasions the roads were worked. There will be another golf course work day in about ten days, at which time a number of Ardmore boosters will come to Sulphur and assist in putting the final work on the links. The golf enthusiasts of Ardmore have been generous to Sulphur regarding the golf links, Perry Maxwell having made a number of trips over here. His aid and suggestions have been helpful to the golf committee.
