
"Golf Architect" To Return Home Today

After directing the opening of operations of the golf course of the new Lakeview country club here, Perry D. Maxwell, of Ardmore, Okla., "golf course architect," will return to Oklahoma this afternoon. Enroute to Ardmore, Mr. Maxwell will stop over at Oklahoma City, where he is building a $100,000 golf course. He will return to Paducah later to look over the progress of the work on the local course during his absence.
