

DORNICK HILLS COUNTRY CLUB OPENS DOORS

MAGNIFICENT CLUB HOUSE AND GROUNDS FORMALLY OPENED
YESTERDAY — RECEPTION AND DANCE LAST NIGHT.

When Perry Maxwell stood in the receiving line and welcomed the members and guests at the Dornick Hills Country club house last night at the first reception tendered by the club, the dream he has harbored for several years was realized, and the ambition to give the city a country club that would not only be a delight to the members but a credit to the city was gratified in the highest degree.

The house-warming of the club was decidedly the greatest social event of the season, and one long to be remembered by all who were fortunate enough to attend. Early yesterday morning the grounds were thrown open to the public and all day long crowds from the city were there admiring the club house and grounds. Last night, at the reception and dance, the number of guests completely filled the house and spacious porches, and every one was in his happiest mood, as they exchanged congratulations with each other for being "among those present." Lowenstein's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion and rendered a fine musical program, while the guests were making preparations to enjoy the dance.

Several golfers from Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Muskogee were expected, but at the last moment wired their regrets. Among these was Mr. Frederickson of Oklahoma City, holder of the state championship.

The success of yesterday and last night's reception was a source of worked so earnestly for the success of the club. They were made to feel that their efforts were appreciated and that the city was grateful for the magnificent result of their labor. Those who know state that nothing of the kind in the state can compare with the Dornick Hills Country club for appointments and attractive beauty. Every convenience has been provided for the members and their friends, and nothing has been overlooked by Mr. Maxwell, to whom most of the credit is due for this institution for the convenience of visitors.

The Dornick Hills Country club is a credit to the city. It would be a credit to a city many times the size of Ardmore, and now that it is completed, it will be the most popular resort for its membership at all seasons.
