

Perry D. Maxwell returned Sunday night from a month's trip to New York and other points in the east. He reports the economic condition gradually getting better in the financial centers.