

Memberships Open In Jeff Country Club

The clubhouse and golf course of the new Jeffersonville Country Club, situated a few miles from the Jeffersonville city limits at a site near Prather, Ind., will be thrown open for inspection on July 4.

Winn C. Lewman, the promoter of the new club, has invested something near the sum of $100,000 in the project, and is relying upon citizens of Jeffersonville to back him up by taking out memberships to the club. Club memberships are now open. Non-members of the club will be charged a small fee.

A dinner-dance will inaugurate the opening festivities July 4 at 7:30 o'clock.
